Advanced Energy Panels

Advanced Energy Panels 10-Year Limited Warranty

Advanced Energy Panels wants you to be completely satisfied.

We warrant our products against defects in workmanship and materials, for ten years from the time of original purchase. This includes all components. We will replace any defective part at no cost to you.

This does not include damage caused by you.

This warranty automatically transfers to any new owners during that ten years, provided you notify us of the change.

This warranty gives you specific legal rights, and you may also have other rights that vary from state to state.

How large buildings combat spiraling energy costs

Insulate your windows with our patented, innovative panels for a fraction of the cost of replacement windows.

What are AEPs?

Advanced Energy Panels preserve the integrity of your windows by being mounted on the INSIDE of existing windows. Our patented durable aluminum frame, dual glazing films, and weatherstripping seals join together to form an impenetrable barrier. Two layers of film trap a 7/16" pocket of air combined with a second pocket between the AEP and the glass.

Custom fabricated and surprisingly discreet AEPs will TRIPLE the insulation value of a single glazed window, immediately impacting both your comfort level and your fuel bills.

A customer writes to us about the 2003 vs. 2004 heating season after only doing a portion of the building:

"We were pleasantly surprised to see a significant drop in fuel usage. Our investment in your insulating panels has already saved us $20,000.00 this year! These window treatments will surely pay for themselves in a very short time. I would recommend them to anyone who is interested in getting control of their winter heating expense."

Advanced Energy Panels

Commercial and public buildings can present a formidable challenge as their large spaces are harder to heat and to cool. Advanced Energy Panels can make your employees more comfortable while trimming precious dollars off of constantly rising energy bills.

Rather than watching hundreds of dollars in heating and cooling bills literally fly out of the window; rather than paying the exorbitant costs of replacing windows; rather than covering up the allure of distinctive windows with blinds or storm windows...realize your potential savings with Advanced Energy Panels by visiting the experts at www.AdvancedEnergyPanels.com or call toll free 800-819-9463.

An AEP in conjunction with a single glazed window offers energy efficiency comparable to top brands.
